Prologue:

We are very happy to release this new version of FAP TURBO. FapTurbo has been revamped and fine tuned onto the pricing model of ECN brokers, especially on the pricestream of FX choice and benefits from HUGE performance increases and stability! We achieved all these great results by optimizing our robot with real trade data with real spreads, true up to the millisecond, AND we also took typical ECN commissions into consideration. All this was only possible thanks to advanced hardware (100 core high performance server)

So, what's new in FapTurbo v56?

- Modification of the TP (takeprofit) and SL (stoploss) parameters
- Huge Increase in Performance and Win / Loss ratio. In short: Makes MUCH more profits and way less losses :)
- Implementation of additional security layers to protect your capital from ever-changing, rapid market conditions.
- New AvoidDaysBefore & After internal filters: Our german expert Tony suggested this idea which we incorporated almost immediately into this new version. Although you cannot view or modify these internal parameters, the AvoidDaysBefore & After filters prevent the robot from working during a range of days either from the start of each month till the date specified by AvoidDaysBefore or from AvoidDaysAfter until the end of each month. Essentially, this means an automatic shut down of specific currency pairs on specific days of the month (at the beginning and end of a month to avoid high risk trades). This has made significant improvements in some of the pairs!
- Optimization of the CustomLevels, means there won't be any trades that close with 0 pips, where the profits would've previously been eaten up by the brokerage's commission.

- Improved TrendFilter , again tweaked and optimized for MyFxChoice!

What are the results?

These in-depth modifications once again make FapTurbo one of the MOST profitable and stable FX robots on the market. Since pictures say more than words, here's a before/after comparison.

We are sure that these performance enhancements speak for themselves. Losses naturally can't be avoided and they are part of trading... but we did what we can to minimize them :) However, for the sake of your lifestyle, please NEVER use money for trading that would have an impact on your day to day life... in other words, please don't bet the farm or trade more than you can afford to lose! 😊
